

THOM PHIPPS

Thom is a writer of comedy, drama and features, as well as a script-reader and editor.

He was one of the winners of the 2011 BAFTA/Rocliffe New Writing forum, for the sitcom MAYFLOWER INVESTIGATIONS (co-written with Peter Bowden). Since then, he has worked to develop and write projects for a range of companies, including Princess Productions, Bwark, Eleven Film, Two Brothers Pictures, King Bert, BBC In-House and Hartswood Films. He was previously part of the BBC Writersroom's Comedy Room writer development group for 2020/21.

He co-wrote BBC4's ASYLUM, starring Ben Miller, Kayvan Novak and Dustin Demri-Burns, for 2LE Media, as well as writing on BBC3's FRIED (Bwark/Two Brothers Pictures).

He is currently developing two new comedies with Fudge Park Productions and has recently written on a talented project for Studio 71. He has had a YA drama series and a sitcom under option to LA Productions, developed a new family comedy drama with Lime Pictures, and recently had an horror/action series under option to Greenacre Films.

He has recently developed two original adult animated comedy series with US animation studio Titmouse Inc. He has written on Cartoon Network's new kids comedy THE HEROIC QUEST OF THE VALIANT PRINCE IVANDOE, and most recently was lead writer on DC's BEAST BOY: LONE WOLF, both for Hanna-Barbera Studios Europe.

He lives in Surrey with two cats.
